

The superfish menu is a slick and slippery sliding suckerfish that smoothly drops down when the user glides over a parent menu item. Replicating the superfish menu is as simple as following and reproducing the settings as shown on the Zen Grid framework knowledgebase .

You will notice that the only thing that differentiates the super fish menu display and the panel menu display is the module class suffix -superfish. Beyond that setting up the two modules are completely the same.